六、閱讀測驗：每題4分，共20分

A.

Hundreds of millions of people around the world are hungry. According to the United Nations (UN), there are over 800 million hungry people in the world, and the number is growing.

Why is the number growing? In a UN report, climate change is among the key reasons for the hunger problem. In some areas, there is too much rain, and the crops are not growing in a good way. In other areas, it is too dry, and plants can't get enough water.

In these poor areas, people are not just hungry. Many hungry children are stunted. These children don't have enough food or the right kind of food, so they can't grow up healthily. This is a serious problem, and we should do something about it.

- (D) 1. What is stunted in the reading?
(A) Children have enough right food.
(B) Children have too much unhealthy food.
(C) Children don't exercise, so they are not healthy.
(D) Children don't have enough food, so they cannot grow.
- (A) 2. What can we learn from the reading?
(A) Some people are experiencing hunger.
(B) We can do nothing for these hungry people.
(C) There are 800 million hungry children in the world.
(D) Climate change is the only reason behind hunger problem.

B.

Many people are working on possible solutions to the hunger problem, and Jagger Gorden is one of them. With his plan, he can feed thousands of people a week. How can he do this?

The supermarkets and shops in his neighborhood help him. They give him not-so-fresh but still-good-to-eat fruit and vegetables. They also give him some meat or fish. The meat and fish are not good enough for sale, but they are good enough for Gorden's plan. There are volunteers in Gorden's shop. They cook for hungry people with the food from the supermarkets.

The food in Gorden's shop is not for free nor for sale. People just pay as much money for the food as they can. People without money can work as volunteers in the shop for food.

- (C) 3. How can hungry people get food in Gorden's shop?
(A) They can buy the food in Gorden's shop.
(B) They can get the food in Gorden's shop for free.
(C) They can be volunteers in Gorden's shop for food.
(D) They can buy food in the supermarket, and Gorden can cook for them.
- (C) 4. What do we know about Gorden?
(A) Gorden and his volunteers are hungry, too.
(B) Gorden and his volunteers buy food for hungry people.
(C) Gorden collects food from the supermarkets near his shop.
(D) Gorden and his volunteers collect food from hungry people and cook for them.
- (D) 5. What do we know from the reading?
(A) Gorden and his volunteers are great cooks.
(B) Gorden's volunteers work for the supermarket.
(C) Gorden and his volunteers make lots of money.
(D) Gorden and his volunteers care about hungry people.

Can we make paper without trees? Believe it or not, a group of people in Taiwan can make paper with stones. They get white stones from Hualien and break the stones into small pieces. Then, they make powder with these small pieces and mix the powder with plastic materials. Finally, they make paper rolls and cut them into small pieces for use.

They make many stone paper things. For example, they make notebooks, calendars and handbags with paper from stones. The paper is waterproof and fireproof. You can even wash the paper. Also, they make the paper without wasting any water. The paper from stones is good for the Earth. Now, people in many countries use this paper. Isn't it amazing?
