(一)

To fly in the sky is not a dream for people nowadays(現今), but do you know how did people make it come true? In 1783, two Frenchmen flew in a hot-air balloon(熱氣球) like a bird.

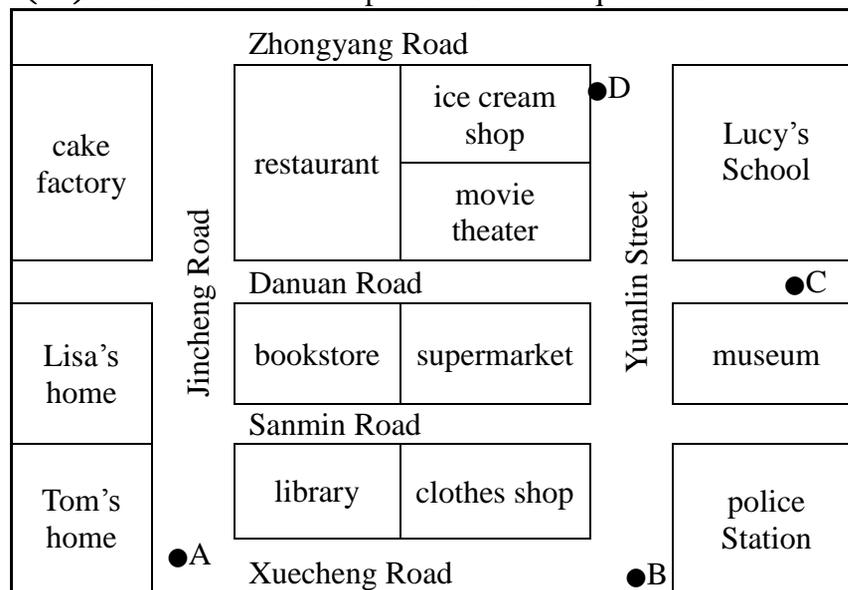

In 2011, Taitung started to hold Taiwan International Balloon Festival. On this festival, balloons from Canada, the UK, France, and other countries flew in the air. Many people go to Taitung to experience(體驗) the feeling of flying. It only costs NT$500 for people to fly in hot-air balloons and enjoy the wonderful view. Every year, from July to August, people visit Taitung by train, plane, or bus. During the Festival, hotels in Taitung are full of people. Besides hot-air balloons, the festival also provides night glow concerts. In the concerts, you can see balloons and fire dance to the rhythm(節奏) of music. It is a feast(饗宴) for your senses(感官).

四、根據以下的敘述，回答 13~17 題(題組一為 13-14 題;題組二為 15-17 題) (10%)

題組一：(13-14)

Molly: Peter, why do you want to be a reporter?

Peter: Reporters is an interesting job. They find, write, and report information. To do their job well, they have to interview people, ask questions and do research.

Molly: Sounds interesting! But why do they need to do research?

Peter: Reporters must tell the truth, so they need to do research to make sure the information is correct.

Molly: Then, what kind of person is suitable to be a reporter?

Peter: I think reporters must be curious. They have to find answers to questions. Sometimes, they ask many people the same questions to make sure their information is correct.

Molly: You really know a lot about reporters. Good for you!

13. What are they talking about?

14. Who may be suitable to be a reporter?

題組二：(15-17)

Getting enough sleep is very important. Sleep gives people the energy for the day. Adults need seven to nine hours of sleep each night. Teens need more. They need eight to 10 hours of sleep every night. If people don't get enough sleep, they won't be healthy. They will get sick more often. Sleep also affects people's memory. If people don't get enough sleep, they may not remember things well. To get a sound sleep, people should turn their phones, tablets, or TVs off an hour or two before bedtime. Because the light from those things can keep people awake. When it's time to sleep, the rooms should be dark, cool, and quiet. That may help people sleep better.

15. What may happen to people if they don't get enough sleep?

16. Renee is a junior high school student. How much sleep should she need?

17. To get a sound sleep, what shouldn't people do before bedtime?
