You might hear of 3D-printed key chains and toys, but did you know that houses can be made with 3D printing, too?

Scientists of the University of Maine have recently built the world's first 3D-printed recyclable house--- the Biohome3D. It was entirely made out of natural materials. With the use of sawdust (wood waste), the university printed the floors, the walls, and the roof. Because of that, the house is 100% recyclable. The Biohome3D first came in pieces, and later it was put together on site. At 600 square feet, it is safe to live in it because it can stand for fire, strong winds, and earthquakes.

The house is designed to solve the state's housing problems. First, it made houses more affordable because it brought down the cost of the materials and shortened the construction process. Second, the use of automated manufacturing solved the problem of workers shortage. Third, since Maine is a state of wood and every year they have 1,000 tons of wood waste, turning the waste into something useful is helpful to the environment. Right now, the university is working on more Biohome3Ds, and their goal is to make a house in 2 days. It is sure that by the time it happens, it would change the world of building and housing.

Before you make any plans for a holiday trip, think about taking a budget airline for traveling! Budget airlines offer ticket prices that are a lot lower than big airlines. However, there are things you need to know before booking these flights.

First, to get the cheapest tickets, you'll need to fly on weekdays and early mornings. It would be cheaper if you enter a promo code when buying tickets, too.

Second, you cannot change your personal information after booking tickets. So make sure your personal details are correct before clicking the "book" button.

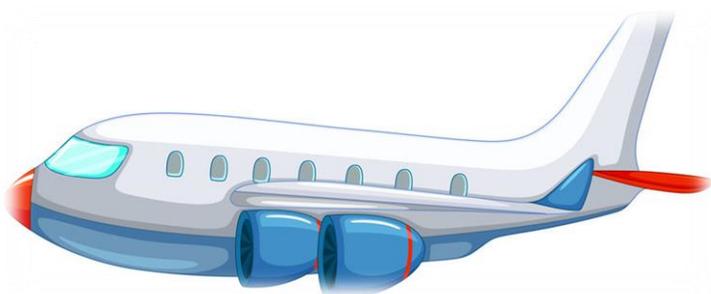

Third, it should be your luggage cost. You can bring a carry-on bag on the plane that fits under your seat. However, anything else will cost money. The price for a checked luggage would be $60, and you will be charged more if your luggage is too heavy. Therefore, always weigh your luggage earlier.

Moreover, you should let the airlines pick seats for you because choosing a seat would cost $50. Besides, the airlines would not offer free meals or drinks, so remember to bring some snacks on the plane.

Most often, budget airlines use smaller planes so you will have very little legroom when traveling. Also, to save money, they usually fly to smaller airports outside city centers. Transportation can be difficult. Therefore, before booking a ticket, keep in mind where your flight is going to land, and think it carefully how you will get to your final stop.

Though flying with budget airlines would have many restrictions, they do offer cheaper tickets than big airlines. With careful planning, we can always enjoy a wonderful trip and also save money.
