Jack's Old Pencil Box

Jack was a student of mine two years ago. He was the shortest student in the class. He was shy. He didn't like to talk to others, so he became lonelier and lonelier. He had a dirty old pencil box. He used it for a long time. A few students sometimes laughed at him for that, but he still used it every day.

I decided to make a change, so I bought a new pencil box for him. He was surprised and happy when he got the gift. He thanked me for it. However, he still brought the old pencil box to school the next day. A classmate asked him why. He said, "The old pencil box is my brother's. He is very sick and can't come to school. I take it with me so it feels like he also comes to school." All the students became quiet after hearing this, and nobody laughed at him anymore.

素養題

When I was little, my father always read me a story before I went to bed. I remember one great story.

The story began with an old beggar. The old beggar carried an old wallet in his hand and asked people for money. However, no one gave the poor beggar a penny. The next day, a fifty-year-old woman passed by the old beggar. She was wearing fine clothes and an expensive watch. As the old beggar looked at her, he thought, "How could this woman be so rich? We're the same age." The woman glimpsed at the old beggar, and then gave him some money. The beggar asked, "Why did you give me money?" The woman said, "It's my habit to give some money to the poor, but not everyone will help you like I did. You have to fight for yourself. Go and find a job!"

I was lucky to hear this story when I was a child. The story always motivated me to become a better person. I appreciated it.

Dear Brian,
 I miss you very much. How are you doing? Things in Los Angeles are very different from those in Taiwan. Back home I could wake up at seven thirty during the week. However, now I need to wake up at half past five to catch the school bus. It takes me about an hour to get to school. What a big city Los Angeles is! Also, I have a lot of schoolwork. I have more tests, and I also need to do a lot of reports to pass my classes. I didn't do any reports in Taiwan, so it takes me a long time to finish one. I need to search for information in the library and online and discuss the report with my partners. Doing reports is tiring, but I learn a lot from it. This summer, I am going back to Taiwan in July and will stay for two months. I can't wait to go back home.

Sincerely yours,
 Laura

Did you like fables when you were a child?
 Fables try to teach young readers a lesson.
 Sometimes the lesson is about doing the right thing.
 Let's read a fable together.

One day, a bird saw an ant in a river. The ant couldn't swim and it was dying. The bird dropped a piece of straw close to the ant. The ant got on the straw, and successfully got to land.

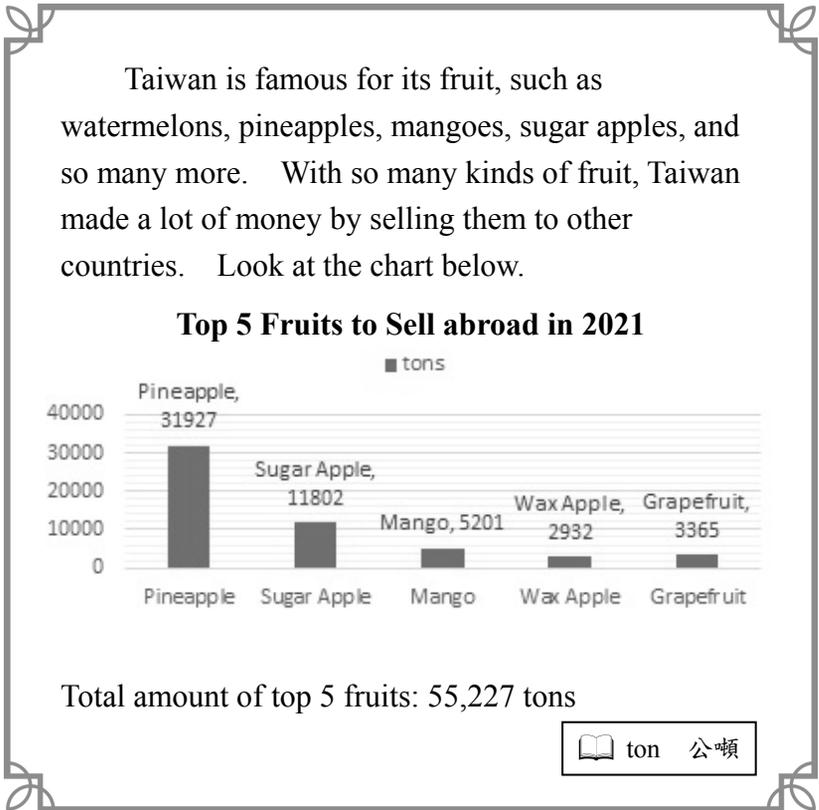

Soon after, the ant saw a man under a tree. He was trying to throw a stone at the bird in the tree. Just before he threw the stone, the ant bit the man, and the pain made him miss his throw.

A fable may not be long, but readers can always learn a lesson from it.

Thanksgiving is one of the most important national holidays in the USA and Canada. On Thanksgiving, people gather with their family and give thanks to each other. But why do people celebrate Thanksgiving? Here is the story.

In the early 1600s, a group of people in England took the Mayflower to America. When they arrived in America, it was winter. The winter was long, windy, and cold for them. Native Americans came and helped out by giving them food and teaching them about their new home.

For those people from England, the first year in their new home was not easy. With the Native Americans' help, they grew many plants. To show their thanks, they had a big meal of thanksgiving for those Native Americans.

六、閱讀測驗：每題 3 分，共 12 分

Are you afraid of sharks? Sharks may be the most dangerous animals under the sea. They have sharp teeth and very big mouths. Although most sharks are very fierce, some of them aren't.

The largest sharks of all are the whale sharks. They can be as long as 18.8 meters. Although whale sharks are the largest fish in the world, they are very gentle and often play with divers.

Researchers in Japan found an interesting fact about whale sharks in 2020. Whale sharks have tiny teeth on their eyeballs. These teeth can help protect their eyes and keep whale sharks from danger.

Whale sharks are endangered animals. If we do not protect them, we will not be able to see them in the future.
