Wind

I saw you toss the kites on high
 And blow the birds about the sky;
 And all around I heard you pass,
 Like ladies' skirts across the grass –
 O wind, a blowing all day long,
 O wind, that sings so loud a song!

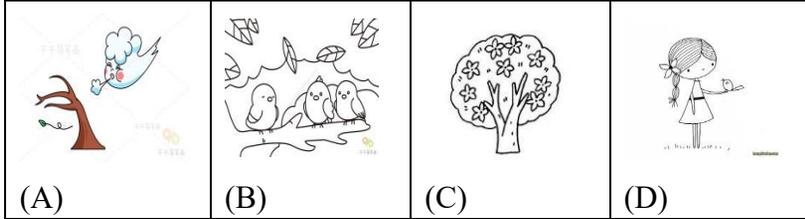

I saw the different things you did,
 But always you yourself hid.
 I felt you push, I heard you call,
 I could not see yourself at all –
 O wind, a-blowing all day long,
 O wind, that sings so loud a song!

O you that so strong and cold,
 O blower, are you young and old?
 Are you a beast of field and tree,
 Or just a stronger child than me?
 O wind, a-blowing all day long,
 O wind, that sings so loud a song!

– Robert Louis Stevenson

If you're a fan of chocolate like I am, then you know the delicious treat not only tastes good but is also good for you. However, there's a dark and sad side to chocolate, and few people know about it. What can be dark about something that's so delicious?

Cocoa is the main thing in chocolate, and most of the cocoa comes from small farms in West Africa. I don't know if you know this, but children between 10 to 16 years old or even younger, have worked as slaves on those farms. In fact, the practice has been around for many years, and little has changed.

These days, over two million children are working in the fields of Ghana and the Ivory Coast. Instead of having fun and enjoying school, these children work long hours in dangerous and tiring environments. They may have to carry heavy loads, spray cocoa trees with pesticides, and burn fields to clear them. These are surprising, right?

Even worse is the fact that many of the children in the cocoa industry were sold to the farms to pay off their families' money problem. Sometimes they are even stolen from their parents, never to see them again. I know I can do something to help those poor children and still enjoy my chocolate treat. With that in mind, I have decided not to buy chocolate from the companies which employ child workers.

- (A) Most of them are between the ages of 10 to 16.
 (B) They have no choice but to work long hard hours.
 (C) There are at least two million child workers in West Africa.
 (D) They work in safe and healthy environments.

Fear Is the Best Medicine

Do you like reading ghost stories or watching scary movies? Do you go to haunted houses just to feel your heart beating? Some people are like that; they like to feel scared, but why? Dr. Margee Kerr and her team have found the possible reason behind that. For years, Dr. Kerr has been studying several haunted places. She also helped set up a haunted house on Halloween. More than 200 people bought tickets and agreed to be a part of the study. Dr. Kerr then studied those people's feelings and brain activities before and after going into the haunted houses. Although the haunted house was so scary that it made their hair stand on end, most people came out feeling happier and less tired. Dr. Margee Kerr and her team found out that getting scared is like doing exercise. It helps lower brain activities. So people can be less worried. The study also showed that being afraid can help put people in a good mood.

Anna Jarvis was American, and she had a very kind mother. At that time, there was a war between the north and the south of America. Because many people got hurt in the war, Ann's mother went to the hospital and took care of them. To make people show love to each other, she started "Mother's Friendship Days" after the war.

Anna loved her mother very much and she always helped her with the housework. However, Anna's mother died on the second Sunday of May in 1905. Anna was very sad about her mother's death. In 1907, she asked the government to make a holiday legal to remember her mother and all the others'. In 1914, the day became a national holiday and all the people in the USA celebrated it with a lot of activities.

On Mother's Day, children show thanks to their mothers in many different ways. Some may make beautiful cards and draw pictures of their mothers. Some may help with the housework, like doing dishes, mopping the floor, or taking out garbage. Many people may send carnations to their mothers because they are in full bloom in May.

Mother's Day falls on Sunday, May 8, 2022. What did you do on Mother's Day? Did you give Mom a warm hug? Did you do anything special to show love to your mother on Mother's Day? If not, remember to show your love to your mother. In fact, everyday can be Mother's Day. You can show love to your mother anytime and anywhere. After all, Mom is the greatest person and she loves you like no one else does. Let's show love to dear Mom.

9. W: There is a night run next Sunday. Let's join it.

M: I'd like to, but I run very slowly. I am the slowest in my class. I can only run faster than my 10-year-old brother.

W: You don't need to run fast. Just enjoy your time there.

M: Maybe you are right, Wendy. I'll give it a try.

Q: Who runs more slowly than the man?

10. W: What time does the party start, Jacky?

M: Well... It begins at half past eight. Will you come?

W: I am afraid not. I have to do my science homework tonight. It may take me a lot of time.

M: Well, why not do the homework this afternoon? I can come and help you finish it.

W: Really? That will be cool. Then, I think I can finish it early and go to the party with you.

Q: Which is not true?

11. M: Alice, why are you shouting so loudly?

W: Because I feel the house shaking.

M: What? I didn't feel it.

W: Come on! You should be more alert.

M: Oh, now I feel it. Hide under the table quickly. I will open the door.

W: OK.

Q: Why do the man and the woman sound nervous?

12. M: Did you watch the latest news on TV?

W: No.

M: Someone died at the beach again today.

W: Well, it is so dangerous during a typhoon. People shouldn't go there.

M: Ya, but some people don't really care about it.

W: Well, they have to pay for it.

Q: What are the man and the woman talking about?

13. Saint Patrick's Day is a big holiday for Irish people. It takes place every March 17 and started out as a religious holiday. Over time, it became a celebration of Irish culture. The people there celebrated by going to church. However, that changed with the large Irish populations in North America. They had big public celebrations. Now, people everywhere turn cities green on Saint Patrick's Day.

Q: Which is true?

14. M: What's the problem?

W: The kitchen sink is full of water. I tried cleaning it, but nothing worked.

M: How did you try cleaning it?

W: I used hot water, and then I used vinegar and baking soda.

M: OK. That means something is stuck in the pipe.

W: Do you think that you can get it out?

M: Sure. I just need to get under the sink and take apart the pipe.

W: Great! I'll let you get to work then.

Q: Which is not true?
