Typhoon Morakot hit Taiwan between August 6 and August 10, 2009. It brought strong wind and heavy rain. The heavy rain brought flooding across the island. We also called it the Eight-Eight Flood (八八水災). The flooding is the deadliest flooding since the flooding caused by Typhoon Ellen in 1959. One landslide destroyed the village of Siaolin, killing over 400 people in Kaohsiung. There were 677 people dead and 26 missing because of the typhoon, and it made us lose more than NT$110 billion. Typhoon Haiyan, known in the Philippines as Super Typhoon Yolanda, was one of the deadliest Philippine typhoons on record, killing at least 6,300 people in that country alone. It hit Philippine in November, 2013. However, in January 2014, bodies were still being found.

Did you see the movie, "Coco"? It is an American computer-animated film in 2017. It is produced by Pixar and released by Walt Disney Pictures.

The story is about a 12-year-old boy named Miguel. He went to the Land of the Dead, and he tried to help his great-great-grandfather to return to his family among the living. After that, his family never ask him to stop playing music.

This story comes from the Mexican holiday, the Day of the Dead. In Mexico, people celebrate the Day of the Dead from October 31 to November 2. During this time, families clean the graves and put candles, flowers, drinks, and food on the graves. Then they remember the dead by sharing stories of their lives.

For the children in Mexico, the day of the Dead is a happy holiday. They celebrate it by dancing and eating candy in the shape of skull. It is a way for children to learn the circle of life and not to be scared of the death.
